

Camouflage

Camouflage helps organisms to blend into their environment so their predator cannot find them to eat. In this activity color the organisms below and then use nature items (sticks, leaves, dirt) to help hide them. You can also use cut up crepe or construction paper to help hide them. See if another person can find the organisms. You can use a paper plate or another piece of construction paper to work on.

